

Exari Contracts Hub™ for Financial Services

Without real-time visibility into all your contractual agreements, you run the risk of being out of compliance, in breach or worse - in a position to pay millions of dollars in fines. These challenges have associated tangible and intangible costs and risks. To dramatically reduce your risk you need a solution proven capable of taming the unique issues in complex Financial Services contracts and collateral.

With the Exari Contracts Hub for Financial Services, all of your contract data lives in one repository that offers instant access to key terms, obligations and risk across your entire contract portfolio. Monitor contract milestones and risk markers, easily locate and search for terms and study trends across all of your contracts. In a crisis, eliminate the process of reading through hundreds of legal agreements to determine your course of action and access the key information you need faster.

Exari Contracts Hub for Financial Services provides immediate insight into even the most complex trading and investment agreements. You'll have the ability to model any agreement structure including a simple bilateral agreement, a complex multi-lateral agreement, or an Agent to multiple underlying Principals agreement.

This amounts to more than just insight - it means asset managers, fund managers, banks, and hedge funds have the ability to manage obligations, information and risk in real-time. It means the ability to reap the most reward with the least amount of risk.
